Dear Parents and Carers,

As we reach the end of a vibrant and busy half term, I wanted to take a moment to reflect on the many experiences and achievements that have shaped our school community over the past few weeks. We have had some amazing experiences and opportunities, but we were also presented with many challenges. Our children and staff have faced them with resilience and strength, and I am so proud of everyone.

This half term has been rich with opportunities for our pupils to connect with the wider community. During number of visits to various places representing Llandrindod Wells, our children embraced their learning through hands-on experiences with curiosity, kindness, and enthusiasm. These moments have not only enriched their learning but have also deepened their understanding of what it means to belong.

Cynefin (Belonging) has been a central theme for us at the beginning of the term. We've explored it in assemblies, classroom discussions, and through creative work. Our pupils have started to think about our school. It's been heartening to see how they've supported one another, celebrated differences, and built connections that strengthen our school's inclusive ethos. Y Senedd started look at updating our school mission statement and we will be in touch with you all to gather your views and ideas.

As we head into the half-term break, I encourage you to continue Cynefin conversations at home. Ask your child what belonging means to them, and how they've felt part of our school community this term. These reflections are powerful and help reinforce the values we hold.

In last few weeks we have reviewed the support our children require, specifically linked to their current emotional needs. As part of this drive, we will be introducing temporary support hub. The hub will be run by trauma informed practitioners who will be working with individual pupils as well as group of pupils. The hub's impact will be reviewed regularly and frequently to ensure all pupils have the best support possible.

I would like to thank you all for your feedback following our Welcome back event and anyone who offered to support the school with various skills. We will be in touch with you regarding of this during the next term. We have many exciting project ideas and are very keen to involved the whole school community.

Thank you, as always, for your continued support. I wish you all a restful and enjoyable half term, and I look forward to welcoming everyone back for another exciting chapter.

Yours sincerely,

Michaela
